Market development

August was a positive month for emerging markets, but FX faced some mixed results among trade policy developments and shifting rate expectations. The trade-weighted dollar depreciated about 2%, opening the door for EM FX performance toward the end of the month. The Colombian peso was the strongest performer in August, followed by the Hungarian forint, and the South African rand. The Indian rupee was one of the worst FX performers included in the benchmark, following ramped-up US trade tariffs.

Expectation of fund manager

Heading into the second half of 2025, the team expects continued uncertainty around US monetary policy and political developments. The former having been reenforced by Fed chair Powell's Jackson Hole speech. The dollar strength may face limitations, given elevated US valuations and potential policy shifts post-election. Within EM, the managers maintain a constructive view on frontier and European emerging market currencies, particularly where valuations are attractive and fundamentals are improving. The fund remains positioned for selective opportunities in high real yield and steep curves.

Sector allocation

The portfolio remains primarily allocated to local currency sovereign bonds while also holding some hard currency sovereign, supranational, and agency bonds, along with a small allocation to cash and other instruments. The non-treasury allocation is largely driven by valuation opportunities in supranationals and select hard currency issuers.

Sector allocation		Deviation index
Treasuries	86.4%	-13.6%
Supranational	3.3%	3.3%
Agencies	3.2%	3.2%
Sovereign	2.0%	2.0%
Cash and other instruments	5.0%	5.0%

Currency allocation

At the end of August, the fund's main overweight positions versus the benchmark were in Colombia, Hungary, Turkey, and Egypt. The fund was also overweight in US dollar at the end of the month, after some EM exposure reduction in the later weeks of the month. Underweights remain in China, Thailand, and South Africa. Currency positioning continues to favor economies that are less vulnerable to global growth headwinds, with positive views on frontier and higher-yielding markets.

Peruvian New Sol	4.9%	4.9%
Other	32.3%	-67.7%

Duration allocation

At 6.0 years, the fund's overall duration was slightly above the benchmark. Duration overweights were focused in Colombia, Indonesia, and Hungary, where valuations remain attractive. China and Thailand remain underweight in duration terms, due to unattractive real yields and limited upside. CEE markets, such as the Czech Republic and Hungary were both overweight relative to Poland, given the extent of cuts priced in Poland relative to both markets.

Rating allocation

The fund's overall credit rating remains at BAA2/BAA3. The largest underweights remain in the single A and BAA-rated categories, especially among more defensive and lower-yielding sovereigns. Instead, the fund emphasizes higher yielding credit risk, with overweight exposure in the BA, B, and CAA buckets – especially through frontier markets and selected high yield sovereign issuers.

ESG Important information

The sustainability information in this factsheet can help investors integrate sustainability considerations in their process. This information is for informational purposes only. The reported sustainability information may not at all be used in relation to binding elements for this fund. A decision to invest should take into account all characteristics or objectives of the fund as described in the prospectus. The prospectus is available on request and free of charge on the Robeco website.

Sustainability

The fund incorporates sustainability in the investment process via exclusions, negative screening, ESG integration and a minimum average country sustainability ranking score as well as a minimum allocation to ESG-labeled bonds. The fund complies with Robeco's exclusion policy for countries and does not invest in countries where serious violations of human rights or a collapse of the governance structure take place, or if countries are subject to UN, EU or US sanctions. In addition, the fund excludes the 15% worst ranked countries following the World Governance Indicator 'Control of Corruption'. ESG factors of countries are integrated in the bottom-up country analysis. In the portfolio construction the fund ensures a minimum weighted average score that is better than that of the index, following Robeco's proprietary Country Sustainability Ranking. The Country Sustainability Ranking scores countries on a scale from 1 (worst) to 10 (best) based on 40 environmental, social, and governance indicators. Lastly, the fund invests in a minimum of 5% in green, social, sustainable and/or sustainability-linked bonds. For more information please visit the sustainability-related disclosures. The index used for all sustainability visuals is based on J.P. Morgan GBI-EM Global Diversified.

Country Sustainability Ranking

The charts displays the portfolio's Total, Environmental, Social and Governance scores following Robeco's Country Sustainability Ranking methodology. These are calculated using the portfolio components' weights and respective country's scores. The scores includes considerations of more than 50 separate indicators, each capturing a unique sustainability feature across environmental, social and governance dimensions at the country level. Index scores are provided alongside the portfolio scores, highlighting the portfolio's relative ESG performance. Only holdings mapped as sovereign bonds are included in the figures.

Environmental Intensity

Environmental intensity expresses a portfolio's aggregate environmental efficiency. The portfolio's aggregate carbon intensity is based on the related country emissions. We divide each country's carbon emissions, measured in tCO2, by the population size or gross domestic product to obtain the country's carbon intensity. The portfolio's aggregate intensity figures are calculated as a weighted average by multiplying each assessed portfolio component's intensity figure with its respective position weight. Index intensities are provided alongside the portfolio intensities, highlighting the portfolio's relative carbon intensity. Only holdings mapped as sovereign bonds are included in the figures.

ESG Labeled Bonds

The ESG-labeled bond chart displays the portfolio's exposure to ESG-labeled bonds. Specifically, green bonds, social bonds, sustainability bonds, and sustainability-linked bonds. This is calculated as a sum of weights for those bonds in the portfolio that have one of above mentioned labels. Index exposure figures are provided alongside the portfolio exposure figures, highlighting the difference with the index.

	Portfolio weight	Index weight
Green Bonds	0.76%	0.14%
Social Bonds	0.00%	0.33%
Sustainability Bonds	4.64%	1.31%
